Stuart Davis, Director, Mandiant; Nick Carr, Senior Manager, TORE Detection & Analysis

About this talk

Recent investigations by FireEye's Mandiant incident response consultants combined with FireEye iSIGHT Threat Intelligence analysis have given us a more complete picture of a suspected Iranian threat group, that we believe has been operating since at least 2013. Join us in a live webinar as we discuss this threat group whom we assess to be involved in a long-term, resource intensive cyber espionage operation motivated by the prospect of collecting strategic intelligence, including information related to the aviation and energy industries, which would ultimately benefit a nation-state or military sponsor. Register today to gain deeper insights into this threat group!
