

Tony Harding laces up again

 devblogs.microsoft.com/oldnewthing/20040311-00

March 11, 2004

Raymond Chen

The skater you love to hate is back. Tonya Harding will lace up for a single game tomorrow with the Indianapolis Ice, which coincidentally happens to be “Guaranteed Fight Night”. (If there’s no fight, you get a free ticket to another game.) Ah, minor-league hockey...

Personally, I don’t think it’s right when somebody benefits from having done something wrong.

Raymond Chen

Follow

